Team Principles

- Attend meetings.
- When setting up a meeting two days ahead, make sure it is during school hours.
- Inform the team, if you plan to be absent at least .
- Let the group know immediately if you face any problem that may affect your work or deadlines.
- Discuss and agree on deadlines together to make sure they are realistic.
- Take initiative, respect everyone's ideas, and communicate openly.
- Support each other and give helpful, feedback.
- Accept feedback and criticism respectfully.
- All communication must be in English.
- Stay reachable and respond within a reasonable time (within 30min).

Working Principles

- Complete all assigned tasks by the agreed deadlines. (soft and hard deadlines)
- Use AI tools responsibly. Any AI-generated work must be clearly marked with a comment, and you must understand and be able to explain it.
- Try to share the workload as fairly amongst all the team members.
- Stay focused during teamwork and avoid distractions.
- Take breaks responsibly to maintain good performance, let the team know when you are taking a break.
- Use only the official communication channel for all team updates and discussions (Teams/WhatsApp chat.) Ignoring the official channel means ignoring the team.
- Apps of communication WhatsApp & teams for file sharing.
- Reviewing each other's work regularly.

Accountability and Monitoring

- Weekly meetings will be conducted
- Provide short status updates often
- Every meeting must have attendance recorded and meeting notes written down.

- After each meeting, the person responsible for writing the meeting minutes must upload them to the shared drive or post them in the official channel within 24 hours.
- One additional team member (appointed at the meeting or by the team lead) must review and confirm the minutes for accuracy within 48 hours

Consequences

- 1st Strike:
  Official warning from the team.

- 2nd Strike:
  The member must complete an additional task, and provide a social compensation for example, buying snacks or drinks for the team.

- 3rd Strike
  The team must take serious consequences, this results to a meeting with a teacher (Miguel) to discuss about what to do next.

Note

Strikes are issued collectively by the entire team. Before a strike is given, the issue must be discussed during a team meeting, where a person who is on a verge of receiving a strike can explain himself. If the explanation is considered reasonable by the team, the strike will not be issued. A strike can only be issued if most team members agree upon the decision.
